

MAURO VENDIMIA SELECCIONADA 1999

Alcoholic degree	14°
Grape Varieties	100% Tempranillo
Production	24 000 bottles
Vineyards	Tudela de Duero – Santibañez de Valcorba

Vintage:

A homogeneous, healthy crop of excellent quality. The mild and dry winter led to an early budburst. Fortunately, there were no frosts, which would have severely limited the production in what turned out to be a cool Spring. The harvest finally began in early October in warm temperatures, following a cooler than average August.

Tasting Notes:

Excellent fruit maturity on the nose, with a highly intense and seductive aromatic profile. Rich and full, with well-rounded, juicy tannins and good weight in the mouth. The structure is firm and powerful but also refined. Can be cellared for a number of years.

Ageing and Consumption:

Bottled in January 2003 after 30 months barrel-ageing in a mixture of French and American oak, new and used.

We recommend decanting before serving, because the wine has not been filtered and therefore a deposit may form in the bottle.
